Workdek doubles your performance and eliminates falls

Workdek makes light work of building work.

Now builders can complete work twice as fast by walking on a continuous, flat surface anywhere on site with their tools and heavy machinery. This is made possible by Workdek's clever, lightweight injection moulded plastic design. Components are lightweight and easy to put together. Yet once locked into place, they're incredibly strong and stable with each square metre deck panel easily supporting 200KGs. It's like you're standing on flat, solid ground no matter the height.
